PRESS STATEMENT

Clifford Chance publishes key employment law guides

Clifford Chance has revised and reissued 2 key employment law guides for 2013: 'A Guide to Employment in the European Union' and the accompanying 'International Guide to Employment Law'.

The Guide to Employment in the European Union is designed to provide an overview of employment law in each of the 27 member states, with the International Guide to Employment Law covering employment law in a number of key jurisdictions: Australia, China, Dubai International Finance Centre (DIFC), Hong Kong, India, Japan, Russia, Singapore, Turkey, the United Arab Emirates, Ukraine, and the US.

The scope of the guides covers a general description of the areas of employment law in each jurisdiction that are of most interest, namely:

- how employees are engaged and dismissed;
- the costs associated with employment;
- the rights of employees at the end of the period of employment.

Modern employment law is complex, extremely varied across jurisdictions and rarely static. As the pace of development of domestic employment law continues unabated these publications cannot serve as a substitute for current and necessarily detailed advice on particular employment law problems that may arise, but it is hoped that they will provide a valuable and informative outline of the relevant law in the countries covered for our clients.

Further information

Clifford Chance also publishes the following additional guides: Employment Law in the United Kingdom, Employee Share Plans in the United Kingdom and Employee Share Plans in Europe and the United States.

If you would like to receive a hard-copy of any of the guides described above or specific employment law-related advice please feel free to contact our labour law specialists David Koláček and Janka Brezániová.

Our regular newsletters are designed to keep you up-to-date with new developments in the world of employment law. If you would like to join our distribution list please contact Tania Stevenson.
